The following tests are temporarily indefinitely unavailable. The cause of this interruption is attributed to the current COVID-19 pandemic. Affected tests have been flagged in the ICL website Test Catalogue as “Service Interrupted”.

- Specimens previously submitted to ICL will be held pending test availability. If any are deemed urgent, please contact us.
- If specimen stability becomes an issue you will be contacted.

ICL will hold new orders and specimens received will be held pending test availability. However, we recommend that the specimens and orders should not be submitted until you are advised that service is resuming.
