

Precision Analytical is a CLIA certified laboratory run by a team of dedicated scientists with combined experience of over 50 years in performing laboratory tests and developing novel testing methods. Their DUTCH Test works to deliver a complete assessment of sex and adrenal hormones, along with their metabolites, in one easy to administer test, helping to provide customers pathways to optimal health.

Please click the link below to view the webinar for a comprehensive overview of the DUTCH test:

DUTCH Testing 101: An Overview